

NASCO NAMED TOP WORKPLACE IN ATLANTA BY THE ATLANTA-JOURNAL CONSTITUTION

NASCO was recognized as a Top Workplace in the Midsize Companies category for the seventh consecutive year.

ATLANTA (March 8, 2018) – NASCO, a leading provider of innovative healthcare IT solutions for the nation’s top healthcare payers, announced today that the company was named a 2018 Top Workplace by The Atlanta Journal-Constitution \(AJC\). NASCO was recognized as a Top Workplace in the Midsize Companies category for the seventh year in a row.

“Top Workplaces is more than just recognition,” said Doug Claffey, CEO of Energage. “Our research shows organizations that earn the award attract better talent, experience lower turnover, and are better equipped to deliver bottom-line results. Their leaders prioritize and carefully craft a healthy workplace culture that supports employee engagement.”

“What makes NASCO a great place to work centers around our people and their dedication to the success of NASCO, our customers and each other,” said John Ladaga, President and CEO for NASCO. “Our driven, fast-paced, can-do attitude is reflected in everything we do to ensure our customers’ success. Working as a team to create a special environment like this is a win-win for everyone, and it’s gratifying to be recognized for it as a Top Workplace.”

The AJC recognizes 150 Atlanta businesses annually with the Top Workplaces award. Recognition as a Top Workplace is based on employee feedback in an anonymous survey that measures several aspects of workplace culture.

On Sunday, March 4, The Atlanta Journal-Constitution published “Top Workplaces in Atlanta” — a complete list of the 150 best places to work in the Atlanta metro area. NASCO’s company profile can also be found on AJC.com.

“Becoming a Top Workplace isn’t something organizations can buy,” Claffey said. “It’s an achievement organizations have worked for and a distinction that gives them a competitive advantage. It’s a big deal.”
